

Unit 8 Assignment: International Labor Rights

Due: Sunday by 11:59 pm at the end of Unit 8.

International Labor Rights

U.S. imports of manufactured goods have increased in recent years raising questions about the conditions of workers producing those goods. For this week's assignment, respond to the following key questions.

Key questions:

- First, provide a brief (one paragraph) overview of this week's material.
- Discuss whether or not workers are exploited in manufacturing of US imports. In your response consider whether they are better off in that type of job or an alternative. Provide a rationale.
- Examine whether or not US consumers should boycott or increase in the purchase of these goods and the effects that boycott or increase in purchase would have on the workers.
- Should standards be set for work rules in other countries? Or, should work rules be left to the political system in a particular country?
- If work rules are set, who should set them and how should they be enforced?
