

SOC 112 Supporting Resource List

The resources below are potential places where you might begin your research in support of your final project if you are choosing your issue from the list provided. Each issue has potential sub-topics that identify more specific issues you could address within the larger category. You are encouraged to identify additional resources as needed to support your work. Please note that whether you are using the resources below or identifying additional resources on your own to support your milestones or your final project, you will want to be sure to provide APA citations for your sources. The resources below from the Shapiro Library are great starting points as you work to compile these citations. If you need additional assistance working on citations, feel free to reach out to the Online Writing Center.
