About Me Bio Draft

Rachel Kruk is a dedicated, self-motivated individual with the necessary drive for success. She is a sincere team player and expresses quality communication skills. Rachel is extremely ambitious and goal-oriented, and also has an impeccable work ethic. She is extremely organized and detail-oriented. In addition, she is also a very optimistic individual who expresses true enthusiasm for everything she does. Rachel is a current student at Saginaw Valley State University pursuing a Bachelor's degree in Business Management and a minor in Spanish. Her most notable and recent accomplishments include becoming a member of the Saginaw Valley State University College of Business and Management Dean's Student Advisory Council, as well as consistently earning her name on the Dean's List for her grade-point average each semester.

In addition to her academic achievements, Rachel also has applicable work experience in the restaurant industry, as well as customer service and clerical work. She demonstrates loyalty to both companies as a result of her being an employee for nearly four years. Rachel uses her knowledge gained from her professional experiences as motivation, and continues to learn and gain information in order to better herself and continue her success in the professional world.

With all of the valuable experiences that Rachel has gained over the recent years, she is hopeful for the future and has many ambitions. She hopes to work for a well-known company that will allow her to travel and gain cultural enrichments abroad, or perhaps even start her own business.
