In this post you will comment about a survey regarding the Syrian refugee crisis in Europe, particularly Germany. Please read the blog carefully and then answer the following questions:

https://www.adoptrevolution.org/en/survey-amongst-syrian-refugees-in-germany-backgrounds/

1. How was the data collected?
2. What type of data has been collected and how was the data visualized?
3. A key finding of the survey was that Syrian refugees primarily flee their country from immediate threats to their life. How can this information be used for a hypothesis test? Is there reason to believe that the percentage is actually higher than 70%?
4. Are there any shortcomings to this study? Discuss with your peers.
