

Week 6 Assignment 2

Application: Personal Reflection

Congratulations! You have made it through the course! We hope you have found the learning journey intriguing, thought-provoking, and insightful. The concepts and tools in cross-cultural psychology have applications across fields and in everyday life. As your final Assignment for this course, reflect on your major moments of discovery in this course.

To complete this Assignment, submit by Day 7 a 1-page personal reflection of “aha moments” over the course. Conclude with your thoughts on how cross-cultural psychology may affect your day-to-day life.

Please include references to all resources you used in your Assignment.

When you have completed all the assignments for this week, you have finished the course.

Congratulations!
